FOREWORD

When your tomorrows have become yesterdays may the reflection of days spent in your Alma Mater be ever present with this,

THE INTERMONT
of 1931

> "And every shepherd tells his tale
> Under the hawthorn in the dale."

DEDICATION

To the Trustees of Intermont
as a whole and individually, in recognition of their unselfish endeavor in our behalf, we dedicate this thirty-first volume of
THE INTERMONT

"Russet lawns, and fallows gray,
Where the nibbling flocks do stray."

BOOK I . . . . The College

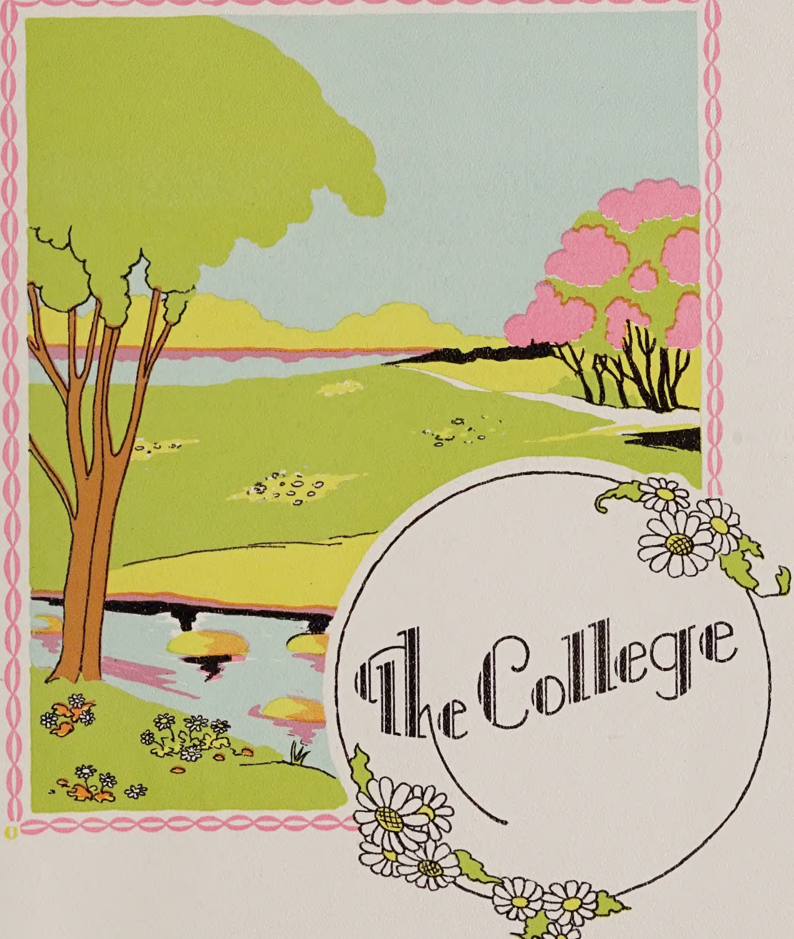
BOOK II . . . . The Classes

BOOK III . . . . . Activities

BOOK IV . . . . . Features

BOOK V . . . . . Humor

"Meadows trim, with daisies pied,
Shallow brooks and rivers wide."



The College

Senior Class History

AS those grand and exalted beings known as Seniors of 1931, we look back on our days at Intermont with joy and it is with the utmost regret that we say "all is finished." Side by side we have struggled with the many disappointments that come to every college girl: also side by side we have been carried away by some joyous undertaking.

The very first taste we had of Intermont's social activities was the "Kid" party given by the Y. W. A. and Y. W. C. A. How we enjoyed the fun and making of new friends, not to speak of the ice-cream lollipops.

Knowing that our Junior class could not exist without some form of organization, a meeting was called early in the fall to nominate the officers. These officers were duly elected by the class: President, Davida Davidson; Vice President, Ruth Warren; Secretary-Treasurer, Virginia Hancock. Proving that we had grown wise in our short stay at Intermont, we chose Miss Margaret Hoskins as sponsor for the class of '31.

The most outstanding athletic event of the year was the annual basketball tournament in which the Junior class emerged victorious. Loud was the cheering for the triumphant Cardinals who whipped the Seniors, Specials and High School Students. This team, captained by Harriet Brown, placed five girls on the Varsity team.

Junior-Senior Banquet! What joy these words brought to us as well as the Senior class, for whom the banquet was given by the Juniors. A trip to the South Sea Islands was the entertainment offered. Much work and more fun was represented by this banquet.

Lyceum numbers and commencement recitals were a source of never-failing entertainment to us our Junior year. Can we ever forget Class Day and last, but far from least, the sadness which pervaded the atmosphere on Commencement night?

Oh, the joy of returning to school in September with the knowledge that at last we were Seniors. How we did enjoy having the new girls look up to us and ask us numerous questions the first few weeks.

Then came Rat Week! Our rooms were never quite so attractively-cleaned, with the lowly Rat to run and execute our slightest wish.

Senior class officers consisting of President, Virginia Wood, Vice-President, Ruth Warren, Secretary-Treasurer, Lois de Armas were chosen early in the fall and, with the help of Miss Margaret Hoskins, again faculty sponsor, have ably organized the class. The Senior class is deeply indebted to Miss Hoskins for her advice on all perplexing questions.

The Senior class has within its ranks girls holding the most responsible positions in school. It has the President of Student Government, Una Mae Huskey; also the Secretary, Margaret Wells. All members of the debating teams, Dorothy Agee, Margaret Pierce, Constance Milton and Virginia Wood, are Seniors. The Presidents of the Athletic Association and the Tennis Club, Constance Milton and Mary Mildred McBride are Seniors. The Presidents of Y. W. A. and Y. W. C. A., Dorothy Agee and Lucille de Armas are Seniors also.

To all these records and achievements at Intermont the class of '31 looks with pride and it is with the utmost sorrow that we realize our days at Intermont are almost over. We are filled with delightful memories of our college days and shall never forget them.

So we say "Goodbye" to Intermont, to the faculty and all the students, wishing for them, in the years to come, as much happiness as we have experienced in the time we have spent "on the Hill."

—Margaret Wells,
Class Historian.

Class Prophecy

I'll make a confession,
And I'm not afraid
To tell you at forty
I'm still an old maid.

But I'll say it's the life—
Independent and free,
With my aeroplane tied
To my favorite oak tree.

I'm a trifle bored this bright spring morn
So I saunter out to my plane;
The barometer says sunshine ahead
But who'd care if it would rain?

Listen, my friend—I have a plan,
Come take a trip with me;
Let's visit our pals of days gone by—
Of days at V. I. C.

My little plane is ready to go,
So let's waste no more time;
We'll visit each classmate whether they live
In a Northern or Southern clime.

We'll soon be in Bristol—
Let's hope we don't stall
Till we see Dale Fugate,
The family and all.

We're at the Fugate mansion—
And guess who else is here
Elizabeth Neel, who's coaching Math
To Dale's young ones so dear!

To Mississippi now let's go
And see Lois, Lou and Dee,
I guess they'll be a bit surprised
To again see you and me.

And what a shock we had when Dee
Said she's been thrice a bride,
The first one died, the second too,
The third chose suicide.

Lois and Lou were gone we heard,
Beauty experts now they are—
Famous for their facial compounds
Made of rabbit's feet and tar.

Now we'll fly to Nashville,
The Pierce homestead we'll pass,
We find that Peggy's now a sweet
Salvation Army lass.

Peggy says that Una Mae
Is warden at the jail—
I wonder friend, if we get in
She'll let us out on bail?

And now let's go to Richmond;
What will Ida say?
Hancock too, and we'll stop through
Pulaski on the way.

Virginia Wood's job is unique,
She's president of the "Ladies' Aid,"
Bones is selling oil stock,
We bought some, tho' a bit afraid.

In Richmond we found Ida
Breeding gold fish rare—
And Hancock married happily—
Ten children are her share.

But we must hurry on, friend,
And make our stops more brief
If we're to get home before dark,
That is my firm belief.

Let's stop and see Clay Farrar
And from her get the news
About our other V. I. friends—
We have no time to lose.

Miss Mary Anna Triplett's
A world-famed mannequin,
To think we have not heard of this,
My friend—where have we been!

And Clay is with Paul Whiteman,
She taps the ivories well,
She even lures misogynists
Beneath her magic spell.

The Raiffs have bought B. Altman's,
They're millionaires I hear,
I wonder who's the mastermind,
Bernice or Blossom dear?

Ferris Wilbourne's married now,
Her name is Mrs. Roe—
I think if I recall just right,
This started long ago.

Freda Webb's the White House chef,
We never thought that she
Would reach this height, especially with
Her start from V. I. C.

And Tommy Armstrong's causing
Quite a stir in Congress now,
The men all listen breathlessly
When Tommy makes her bow.

Our old friend Margaret Wells is now
A lawyer through and through,
She'll keep you out of jail somehow,
No matter what you do.

Mary Beth's a pedagogue,
And strict as she can be,
She's teaching Methods of Escape,
At dear old V. I. C.

Connie Milton rests in peace—
A master of the modern song,
She died, the coroner has said
From "poop-a-dooping" all day long.

Minnie Mae Deadwyler
Is still holding her own;
On Mrs. Murrell's retirement
She took her lofty throne.

Modest Susie Jackson,
The flower of the South,
Is making tooth paste "ads" e'en tho'—
She's false teeth in her mouth.

Pauline Jacob's bakery shop's
A bright and shining light,
She's proved—to win the heart of man
First calm his appetite.

Helen Louise Bitner
Runs an orphan home today,
So take your orphans to her—
She's kind to them they say.

Bessie McRae has invented
A new type cigarette,
I knew the filthy habit
Would claim our Bessie yet.

But we must rush on home now,
'Cause twilight's drawing nigh,
And after our long journey,
I'm 'most too tired to fly.

We haven't visited all our friends,
But what a revelation!
We hear the rest are well and adding
To the population.

And here we are back home again,
Oh what a happy day
We've spent with friends of long ago
And now let's hit-the-hay.

—MARY MILDRED McBRIDE, '31.

Dancing in the chequered shade."

Echoes from the Dramatic Department

THE year 1930-31 has been marked at happy intervals by a number of highly enjoyed plays given by the Dramatic Club. These occasions have made red-letter days in our year's calendar always anticipated with greatest pleasure and looked back upon with delight by the student body and faculty; but the girls who participated, the actresses, the "stars" themselves, in spite of hours and hours of hard work in nightly rehearsals, derived, perhaps, the greatest pleasure of all from their efforts. Yes, as we take a backward look upon the various activities of the year we realize that some of our very happiest memories cluster around our Dramatic rehearsals.

We do not claim to have done any very great things in the realm of dramatic art, but we take great pride in having worked toward the highest ideals and the end of the year finds us with nobler ambitions and desires than the beginning.

The first play of this year came on November 10th on our Armistice Day program. This was a very touching and appealing little war play "For Liberty's Sake." The girls who composed the cast were Louise Brewer, Elizabeth Matheney, Virginia McCauley, Lucile Hayworth, Leola Davidson, Emily Dykes, Peggy Pierce, Lois Nuckolls and Miriam Robinson and Donna Marie Hall whom we remember as playing so excellently the role of the Red Cross Nurse.

Next came our dear sweet "Glad Girl" play, "Pollyanna." What happy associations will always cluster about our rehearsals for this play, and the final production of it on December 17th when our large appreciative audience, by their beautiful response, attention and applause pronounced it a triumphant success. The title role was played in almost a professional manner by Lucile Hayworth, and the strong cast that so ably supported her were Louise Brewer, Lois Nuckolls, Virginia McCauley, Peggy Pierce, Maude Kinkead, Leola Davidson, Frances Cox, Miriam Robinson and Donna Marie Hall.

On February 18th an informal program of one-act plays was given, consisting of the following: a cute little dialogue, "The Spelling Lesson," given by the two "baby" members of the Dramatic Club, Augusta Pepper and Shirley McFern. Then followed an attractive little play presented by Helen Hayden, Madge Daugherty, Dorothy Robinson and Ruth Berry, a Feminine Episode, "Three Dear Friends." Next on this program was an unusual and amusing little sketch given by Miriam Robinson and Donna Marie Hall, "The Municipal Davenport," a one-word drama. This was followed by a very humorous play, "So Sure and Yet So Far," which "Mac" and Lois did in their best style. Miriam and Lois brought the program to an end with an extremely funny extravagance, "A Pair of Lunatics."

We shall never forget the fun we had in rehearsals in preparation for our April 25th performance. "The Lady of Pain," a comedy of youth opened this program. In this Helen Hayden "starred" in the role of the High School "Vamp," and other members of this jolly cast were Lucile Hayworth, Miriam Robinson, Ruth Berry, Thelma Hugh, Leola Davidson, August Lee Budlman and Sybal Cox.

And then came "that terribly exciting affair," "The Man in the Bowler Hat." Shall we ever forget Margaret Kent and Maude Kinkead! And what a good time was had by all that congenial cast, Leola Davidson, Miriam Robinson, Lucile Hayworth, Helen Hayden and Peggy Pierce! We do not know how much the audience enjoyed that play but we do know never did any cast have more side-splitting laughs than did that one at every rehearsal.

In closing this program Virginia McCauley, Lois Nuckolls and Donna Marie Hall gave a very clever play, "The Unseen," by Alice Gerstenberg. We shall not soon forget the excellent acting done by these three girls and especially that of Donna Marie in the role of the "dumb" Swedish maid.

As the annual goes to press we are hard at work on our commencement play, which promises to be the outstanding production of the year. This is a lively comedy in three acts entitled, "Skidding." Those playing the several roles are Maude Kinkead, Miriam Robinson, Donna Marie Hall, Margaret Kent, Louise Brewer, Dorothy Robinson, Lucile Hayworth, Virginia McCauley, Leola Davidson and Lois Nuckolls.

With this effort we bring to an end our year's work, which although it has not been brilliant or spectacular yet it has been happy, profitable and we trust successful.

The Young Woman's Christian Association occupies a distinct and important place in the social and religious life on the Intermont campus, which no other organization can fill.

The purpose of this Association is to associate young women in personal loyalty to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord; to promote growth in Christian character and service through physical, social, mental and spiritual training; to become a social force for the extension of the Kingdom of God.

Although a Baptist organization the Y. W. A. is interdenominational on the college campus. Its purpose is three-fold; first, to develop a symmetrical Christian young womanhood; second, to bind together the young women of this college for world-wide service for Christ and unite them with young women of like interest in other colleges throughout the world; third, to give instruction in the methods and mission work of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society for Junior Colleges was founded in 1918 at Columbia, Missouri.

THE NU CHAPTER

This chapter was organized at Virginia Intermont in 1926, the first chapter east of the Mississippi. The work of the organization has advanced each year. Last March a delegate was sent to the Grand Council at Fulton, Missouri. Interesting activities have been planned for the spring term. The chapter room which is now furnished, will be open to the members for reading and study. Plans have been made again this year to send a delegate to the Grand Council. The pledge members which were elected at the end of the first term 1931 were Rebecca Frebis, Ruth Halsey, Clay Farrar, and Mary Katherine McCoy. Several other students are expected to make the required average by the end of the third quarter. Elections take place only at these two intervals during the session.

The active members of Phi Theta Kappa are Elizabeth Neel, Davida Davidson, Katherine McLean, Edna Hatfield, Louie Will Treadwell, Elizabeth McKee, Mary Anna Triplett, and Ruth Warren.

Basket-Ball

THE basket-ball tournament took place in the gymnasium in March, three teams, the Seniors, Juniors, and a combined High School and Special, playing for the silver trophy and the championship of Intermont.

On the first day of the tournament the Junior team emerged victorious over the High School team after a hard fought game, by the margin of one point.

On the following day the losers of this game, the High School team, played the Seniors. The suspense in this game was even greater as the score was tied in the last minute of the game but a free goal saved the day for the Seniors, and they came back to play the Juniors on the last night of the tournament. Imagine the suspense and loyalty of both classes for the evenly matched teams. This proved to be well worth the anticipation for at the end of the half the score was tied. After a fast second half the Seniors emerged—champions.

The Athletic banquet, attended by the whole student body, at which the basket-ball teams were guests of honor was held in April. Awards were made by Miss Rhoda L. Nunnally, Director of Athletics.

Virginia Wood received the white sweater with the Old English I on it. This signified that Virginia is not only an outstanding basket-ball player but that she was a true representative of Intermont. She is president of the Senior class, a member of the debating team, and a student active in all school activities.

President H. G. Noffsinger, who presided at the banquet, presented the silver loving cup to Davida Davidson, captain of the Senior basket-ball team, which won the championship in the annual inter-class tournament early in the spring.

Old English "I's" were awarded Margaret Ligon, Pamplin, Va., Davida Davidson, Mississippi, and Thelma Taylor, Clinchport, Va., for being outstanding players and all-round students.

From all the class teams a varsity team had been chosen by a committee from the athletic department and the faculty, to each member of which a gold basket-ball was presented. The ten girls receiving such awards were Davida Davidson, Mary Mildred McBride, Connie Milton, Margaret Ligon, Virginia Wood, Mildred McLean, Helen Bane, Dorothy Daughtrey, Eileen Irvine and Thelma Taylor.

To every member of the championship Senior team was awarded a block "I." Those honored with the award were Davida Davidson, captain and forward, Mary Mildred McBride and Lois de Armas, forwards, Connie Milton and Rosamond Fletcher, centers, Margaret Ligon, Virginia Wood, and Minnie Beck, guards.

Miss Nunnally also presented each member of the class teams with the numerals "31."

As a whole the basket-ball season was a huge success due to the work of the teams and Coach "Mac."

Humor

Jokes

Hilda Bones was taking her first aeroplane ride, when three thousand feet in the air the plane went into a tail-spin.

Aviator (yelling to Bones): "I'll bet 50 per cent of those people down there think we are falling."

Bones (holding on tight): "Yes, and 50 per cent of the people up here think so too."

Polly: "Look at Ferris, she's wrapped in thought."

Petie: "She must be chilly—so thinly clad."

Bobby Noyes after translating several lines of French came to the sentence "Il part."

"Do you want me to read the second part?"

Miss McCoy (in history class): "Now I want you to read the biography of an eminent person for next week."

Bonnie: "May I read Ligon's diary?"

Pugsy: "Will you hold these books for me?"

Dr. Noffsinger: "Young Lady, I am the president of this college."

Pugsy: "Oh that's all right, you look honest."

Miss Pflug: "Did you know I was a Life Saver during the summer season?"

Miss Story: "Really? What flavor?"

1st Voice (on phone): "This is Raymond. Do you love me?"

2nd Ditto: "Of course dear."

1st Voice: "You two-timer! This isn't Raymond, it's George."

2nd Ditto: "You double-crosser! This isn't Frances, it's Dot."

Jean: "Did you ever try reading a blotter?"

T. P.: "No, why?"

Jean: "You ought to. It's absorbing."

Motto of every V. I. girl: "Every Man for Herself."

While in New York, Miss MacDaniel inquired of a taxi-driver parked at the curb: "Are you free?"

He raised a calm gray eye, shook his head smilingly, and said: "Madam, as Plato said, 'No man is free'."

Mr. Cooke: "What did Juliet say when she met Romeo on the balcony?"
Charis: "Couldn't you get seats in the orchestra?"

Miss McKee: "Is your baby a boy or a girl?"
Proud Young Mother: "Of course, what else could it be?"

Miss Mize is having trouble with the sweet young thing who is so modest that she won't do improper fractions.

Libby Crawford: "How did you get that cut on your head?"
Alice LeRoy: "Hic—musta—hic bit myself."
Libby: "Gwan. How could you bite yourself up there?"
Alice: "Musta stood on a chair."

Sue Jackson: "Hello, is this the City Bridge Department?"
"Yes, what do you want?"
Sue Jackson: "Will you please tell me how many points you get for a little slam?"

Miss Daughtry: "Are you chewing gum?"
Bright Young Thing: "No ma'am. I am Beulah BonDurant."

1st Cannibal: "I understand that the chief is sick."
2nd Cannibal: "Yeah. Hay fever."
1st Cannibal: "Well, I knew he shouldn't have eaten that grass widow."

Snookie: "While you were in Europe did you see any romantic old ruins?"
Sarah Buckner: "Yes, and one of them wanted to marry me."

Mrs. Brown: "What lovely fleecy clouds! I'd just love to be up there sitting on one of them."
Mr. Brown: "All right. You drive the car."

Little Virginia Harrison wants to know who killed the Dead Sea. Well, she's not so dumb, who did?

Song of the Misses McCoy, Daughtry, MacCaulay, and Jennings

As soon as day begins to dawn
The meadow lark starts singing.
As soon as evening comes,—a star—
The Angel's lamp—starts swinging.
As soon as I am in the tub,
The telephone starts ringing.

Mary Mil (in Biology class near the end of the semester): "How do you spell omnisternum?"

Miss Egbert: "Just the same way we've been spelling it all semester."

Scotland Scores Again

Our attention is brought to the Scotchman who gave his wife a package of paper plates and an eraser.

Traffic

"Virginia Wood got killed while crossing State Street yesterday."

"I always thought she'd get a natural finish."

In a cigarette, it's taste.
In a rumble seat—it's impossible.

"What makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"

"Search me—maybe it smokes Luckies."

Bargar: "I'm going to swipe that sign."

Clem: "Which one?"

Bargar: "The one that says 'Honesty is the best policy'."

Lu de Armas (at staff meeting): "How do they make this pebble effect on the division pages?"

Dee Davidson (tired with explanations): "Why they just throw little stones at it."

Dot Cigrand: "Did you hear about the Scotchman who went insane in Chicago the other day?"

Arda Russell: "No. Go on if you must."

Dot Cigrand: "Well it seems he found a lunch ticket but it was punched full of bullet holes before he could get inside the restaurant door."

"Jack must be planning to buy a new car."
"Why?"
"I see he's letting Dale drive."

Lois (at staff meeting): "How many jokes do we have in now?"
Triplett: "All but Boonie."

Which reminds us that ink will run, but a pencil must be lead.

"Hello."
"Hello. This Una Mae?"
"Yes."
"Do you still love me?"
"Of course. Who is it?"

Hattie: "Do you know why Noah took two of each animal into the ark?"
Ida: "No, why?"
Hattie: "He didn't believe the story about the stork."

At a filling station I. W. W. stand for : Information, Wind, and Water.

Mr. Brown: "And are you sure that this story is original?"
Dynamite: "Certainly it is."
Mr. Brown: "Great heavens! I didn't think I would ever live to see the day when I would meet Rudyard Kipling."

Mr. Martin: "I just adore dark women."
Mr. Schroetter: "You'd have a big time in Africa."

Mrs. Murrell: "It's ten o'clock. Do you think you can stay here all night?"
Mason: "Well, I'll have to telephone the Dean first."

An adding machine covers a multitude of sums.

Virtue has it's own reward.—It needs it.

The Modern "L'Allegro"

Get thee Sorrow far away
That Mirth may reign alone today,
My heart is filled with joy and bliss
There's not one thing that is amiss,
My thoughts are those of sweet content,
Drifting aloft and joyward bent,
Feeling Aurora's soft appeal
I hurry to my automobile.
I see a milkman drawing nigh,
Whistling a song into the sky.
Soon the city is far behind
Starting anew it's daily grind.
I drive along the highway straight,
Until I spy a farmhouse gate,
The huge machines are threshing hay—
Not the hands of yesterday.
I see a field, a shallow brook,
A cozy tempting little nook;
A work of Nature's magic art,
Untouched, unhampered from the start
By hands that build a city's walls,
By hands that fashion marble halls;
This skill cannot compare we see
With Nature's art—simplicity.
But here I dream with beauty 'round,
When I must soon be homeward bound,
So I at once retrace the way
O'er which I came this joyous day;
And soon the city is in sight
Where I will spend a happy night.
I don my tux and smooth my hair
And call upon my lady fair;
WE dine and then decide to see
A show—then dance until we'll be
So tired that home again we go,
And now my lights are burning low,
Sweet Slumber soon will come my way,
What joys have not been mine today.

—M. M. McBride.

It's so easy to shop at KING'S . . . .

so many of your needs under one roof

¶ Buying at King's saves time, as well as affording wider variety. Everything from toilet requisites to the major needs in apparel . . . and each in specialty departments where assortments are more varied than can be found elsewhere.

¶ And, no matter what the season, at King's there's an air of up-to-dateness not surpassed even in metropolitan stores, or your home stores wherever they may be.

THE H. P. KING
COMPANY

Ye Alphabet as Learned at Dear Olde V. I. C.

A is for Alma Mater—may her glory never lessen!

B is for Bull found around the halls any old night.

C is for Campus which many love so much they seem to stay on continually.

D is for Dancing, various and sundry they say.

E is for Exams—or period of mourning and gloom.

F is for Flunk—of course, this is rarely used.

G is for Gym—"Where you meet your friends."

H is for High School—where "'tis folly to be wise."

I is for Ice Cream, hatchets, shamrocks, and all.

J is for—"Hey, your tub's running over!"

K is for King College—our co-eds.

L is for Laundry, both going out and coming in (but oh what a difference a few washings make).

M is for Man—rarely seen except at chapel or church or on Thursday night or on Monday afternoon in the movies.

N is for News—The Cauldron boils over quite often.

O is for Emblem of poor work, quite often found in teacher's grade book. Also for Oh—when found by student.

P is for Permission (s'il vous plait)—most often used in addressing Mrs. Murrell.

Q is for Quiet—observed mostly after lights (?).

R is for Recreation—abbreviation, Moore St.

S is for Study—threaten often, especially at breakfast or after first flash at night.

T is for Teahouse—use own conclusion. Also for themes which are very prevalent.

U is for Most popular case of address—"U go get the mail," "U do it," etc. Result of "Et tu Bruti" probably.

V is for the good old state (Virginia) from which we can cross into Tennessee (on Mondays).

W is for Wonder (not world wonders—though some seem about as magnificent). Wondering about spring holiday, about what Mr. Cook could ask on examination, etc.

DELIGHTFUL RHYMES

The college lad has lots of fun,
He finds life one grand whirl,
His brain is full of frats and such,
His arms are full of girl.

The columnist has lots of woe,
And little fun he gets,
He finds his sanctum full of cranks,
His mail chock-full of debts.
